

PEDIATRIC PSYCHOLOGY: FROM INFANCY TO YOUNG ADULTHOOD

SOCIETY OF PEDIATRIC
PSYCHOLOGY
ANNUAL CONFERENCE

MARCH 27-29, 2014 | PHILADELPHIA

GENERAL INFORMATION

Conference Objectives

1. To provide up-to-date information on evidence-based practice in pediatric psychology services for children and families.
2. To provide a forum for presentation and discussion of current research in pediatric psychology, and how such research informs clinical practice, service delivery, and policy decisions.
3. To provide opportunities for productive interaction between and among researchers, practitioners, and trainees.

Continuing Education Credits

The Society of Pediatric Psychology (Division 54 of the American Psychological Association) is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. The Society of Pediatric Psychology maintains responsibility for this program and its contents. Certificates of attendance will be issued for each poster session, symposium, or address marked with a CE on the conference schedule. There are 14 scheduled hours of Introductory to Intermediate level CEs for psychologists offered at the 2014 SPPAC, with additional CEs available for those who attend the preconference workshops.

In order to obtain a certificate of attendance for a session, you must:

1. Arrive on time for the start of the session,
2. Obtain an evaluation form from an evaluation monitor,
3. Stay for the duration of the session; and,
4. Complete and turn in the evaluation form immediately at the end of the session.

Please give your completed evaluation form with sign-in sheet to the evaluation monitors (our trainee volunteers) at the end of each session. They will issue your documentation of attendance.

Note: The Saturday morning sessions run back-to-back without a break; please only claim credit for those sessions that you attend in their entirety. Evaluation monitors will be on hand at the CE table to accept completed evaluation forms from those individuals who elect to attend only 1 or 2 of these sessions but CE rules regarding arrival and departure times will still be strictly enforced.

Please remember: In order for SPP to maintain approval to sponsor continuing education, evaluation forms cannot be given out after the start of each session. Participants are responsible for submitting their evaluation form immediately at the close of a session. We cannot award partial attendance at a session. Our trainee volunteers make this process possible so please be respectful of them. For questions related to continuing education, please speak with Dr. Jennifer Verrill Schurman, SPP Member-at-Large for National Conferences.

Conference Hotel

SPPAC is being held at the Loews Philadelphia Hotel, 1200 Market Street, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19107, (215) 627-1200.

Registration

All conference attendees, including presenters, guests, and participants, must register and wear a badge.

Meals/Receptions

A light breakfast will be served each day. Lunch will be served on Friday to pre-registered attendees for the mentor lunch. Other attendees can get lunch on their own in or near the hotel. There are many options in the neighborhood. The Thursday and Friday night receptions that accompany the poster sessions will include hors d'oeuvres.

Philadelphia

William Penn's gridiron city plan, dating back to the 1600's, makes Philadelphia a very walkable city. Numbered streets go North/South and many of the East/West streets have names of types of trees (Chestnut, Walnut, Locust, etc). The Loews is centrally located in Center City; you are walking distance to all the historical sites and many museums in Old City, scenic Rittenhouse Square area (there is an actual square park surrounded by restaurants and shopping down Walnut St), and the museum district that includes the Philadelphia Art Museum, Barnes Foundation, Franklin Institute, etc. In the immediate neighborhood, within about a 4 block radius, you will find many eating options and fun shops. More information is available at the registration table or from the hotel.

WELCOME FRIENDS AND COLLEAGUES!

Welcome to Philadelphia and the 2014 Society of Pediatric Psychology Annual Conference. Philadelphia is the birthplace of America and now will go down in SPP history as the site of the first pediatric psychology conference known as SPPAC. The Society of Pediatric Psychology (SPP) has a strong tradition of convening researchers and clinicians from around the United States and beyond for a national conference. In the past, a national conference was typically held every other year. The conferences were the result of tireless work of committed leaders in the field who volunteered to make this happen, even as the conference continued to grow.

Guided by the leadership of 2012 SPP president, Tonya Palermo, one of the strategic goals of SPP in 2012 was to advance and support education in pediatric psychology through an annual national conference. Now the SPPAC, hosted by SPP, will be held every year, allowing us to gather more often to share ideas, disseminate cutting edge research, network and collaborate, and reminisce with old friends while making new ones. The official SPPAC aim is to advance SPP's mission to promote the health and psychological well-being of children, youth and their families through science and an evidence-based approach to practice, education, training, advocacy, and consultation by:

1. Advancing the science of pediatric psychology and related fields through dissemination of cutting edge research; promotion of research that is culturally, ethically, and developmentally sensitive and includes diverse populations; and education on evidence-based assessment, intervention, and emerging areas of research, clinical care, and policy.
2. Providing a forum for individuals at all levels, from students to established investigators and clinicians, to facilitate consultation, collaboration, and mentorship.
3. Promoting the role and value of pediatric psychology in a changing healthcare environment nationally and internationally.

The 2014 SPPAC theme, "Pediatric Psychology: From Infancy to Young Adulthood," is intended to highlight the maturation of pediatric psychology via attention to innovative research with youth of all ages. This year's conference has 5 specific focus areas reflected throughout the programming: Back to Basics: Early Childhood Problems, Coming of Age: Transition to Adulthood and Adult Care, New Insights into the Brain: Neuroscience and Neuroimaging, Expanding our Tools and our Reach: Use of Technology, and Coming Full Circle to Clinical Care: Translational Science. Some new or expanded features of the SPPAC include more workshops, more breakout sessions, more SIG meetings, a Novel and Noteworthy Research Blitz Session, the inclusion of early career individuals in the mentorship lunch, an international speaker, the presidential address, and talks by select SPP Award winners.

The transition of the Division 54 Awards from the APA Convention to SPPAC is intended to highlight our awardees with a larger segment of our membership.

We have so many people to thank including many SPP members, sponsors, and our event managers. Please see the following pages for more information on who contributed to the 2014 SPPAC. We also want to acknowledge all the leaders, starting with those at the University of Florida (the original trailblazers), who started and maintained the tradition of pediatric psychology conferences. Most recently, this effort was lead by Michael Roberts and Ric Steele at the University of Kansas. They persevered to chair two successful consecutive conferences. They also provided invaluable guidance to us as we continue the tradition. Finally, we want to thank all of you for your enthusiasm about and contributions to the 2014 SPPAC. Without attendees and the important scientific and clinical content that you bring, SPPAC would not be possible.

We hope you have a wonderful experience at the 2014 SPPAC and in Philadelphia, and we will hopefully see you all in San Diego for the 2015 SPPAC!

Sincerely,

Lisa A. Schwartz, PhD

ABOUT OUR SPONSORS

RTI International

www.rti.org

RTI International is one of the world's leading research institutes, dedicated to improving the human condition by turning knowledge into practice. Our staff of more than 3,700 provides research and technical services to governments and businesses in more than 75 countries in the areas of health and pharmaceuticals, education and training, surveys and statistics, advanced technology, international development, economic and social policy, energy and the environment, and laboratory testing and chemical analysis.

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia

www.chop.edu

Founded in 1855, The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia is the birthplace of pediatric medicine in America.

Throughout its history, a passionate spirit of innovation has driven this renowned institution to pursue scientific discovery, establish the highest standards of patient care, train future leaders in pediatrics, and advocate for children's health.

The Children's Hospital of Philadelphia®

Hope lives here.®

The Department of Pediatrics continues its standing among the premier academic pediatric departments in the country. With our wide and still expanding clinical network and increasing number of faculty conducting basic and clinical research, we have continued to be able to achieve the goals of the Department and to support the goals of the University of Pennsylvania Health System. We have developed depth, breadth, and excellence in general pediatrics and all pediatric subspecialties. In FY 2014, the Department of Pediatrics was ranked number one in the nation by US News and World Report, making it the 11th consecutive year that the Department has been either first or second.

The Department of Child and Adolescent Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences is an interdisciplinary team of psychologists, psychiatrists, nurse practitioners, social workers, and licensed counselors who are dedicated to addressing the behavioral health needs of children and adolescents, with particular expertise in serving those with complex medical conditions. The Department uses an integrated approach to service delivery that places a priority on promoting access, improving efficiency, and delivering high quality care. Reflecting the mission of the hospital, the Department aims to be a world leader in research resulting in innovations to clinical care, interdisciplinary teaching and professional development, and clinical care for children and their families. The Department offers a broad range of outpatient, day treatment, and inpatient programs, including Consultation and Liaison, Oncology, Musculoskeletal Pain, Feeding and Swallowing, Craniofacial, Rehabilitation, Organ Transplant, Neonatal Follow-up, Neuropsychology, Eating Disorders, Autism Spectrum Disorders, Anxiety and Depression, Stress and Coping, ADHD, Behavioral Health in Primary Care, and Community School programs.

Nemours/Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children

www.Nemours.org

Nemours is an internationally recognized children's health system that owns and operates the Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children in Wilmington, Delaware and the Nemours Children's Hospital in Orlando, Florida along with pediatric specialty clinics in Delaware, Florida, Pennsylvania and New Jersey. Established as The Nemours Foundation through the legacy and philanthropy of Alfred I. du Pont, Nemours offers pediatric clinical care, research, education, advocacy and prevention programs to all families in the communities it serves.

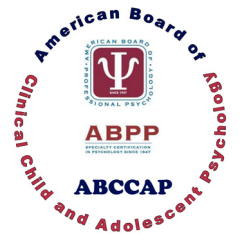

The Division of Behavioral Health at the Alfred I. duPont Hospital for Children includes nineteen psychologists, three psychiatrists, an APA-approved Psychology Internship program and an active Psychology Postdoctoral Fellowship Program, among the nation's largest. Behavioral Health is part of the Nemours Neuroscience Center, along with the closely aligned disciplines of Neurology, Neurosurgery, Developmental Pediatrics, and Rehabilitation. Throughout the Nemours pediatric health system in the Delaware Valley and in Florida, our psychologists see children in inpatient, outpatient and primary/preventive care settings. They are active in publishing, presenting, education and research. In addition, psychologists direct the Nemours' Center for Healthcare Delivery Science (CHDS), a nationally recognized research center studying the many influences that can affect the outcomes, quality, cost, safety and value of children's health care, with the goal of building a strong base of scientific evidence about how health care can best be delivered.

The American Board of Clinical Child and Adolescent Psychology (ABCCAP) provides board certification under the auspices of the American Board of Professional Psychology (ABPP). ABPP is the only board certification organization recognized by the Commission for the Recognition of Specialties and Proficiencies in Professional Psychology (CRSPPP). ABCCAP certifies psychologists who identify themselves as child/adolescent psychologists and/or pediatric psychologists. We would be happy to talk to you and provide information throughout the conference!

Department of Psychology of Drexel University

www.drexel.edu/psychology/

The Department of Psychology is a robust academic department within the College of Arts and Sciences at Drexel University. We are dedicated to excellence in the field of psychology and to supporting our students as they pursue their academic and professional goals. The department has faculty members that specialize in pediatric psychology and pediatric neuropsychology.

ABOUT OUR INVITED SPEAKERS

Captain Steven Hirschfeld, MD, PhD of the Commissioned Corps of the United States Public Health Service (USPHS) is currently director of the National Children's Study — a multi-year research study that will examine the effects of environmental influences on the health and development of more than 100,000 children across the United States, following them from before birth until age 21. Captain Hirschfeld earned his MD from Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons and his PhD in Cell Biology from New York University. He did his residency and chief residency at the University of California, San Francisco, research fellowship training at the Eunice Kennedy Shriver National Institute of Child Health and Human Development (NICHD), and clinical fellowship at the National Cancer Institute (NCI), National Institutes of Health, Bethesda, Md. Captain Hirschfeld received board certification in general pediatrics and pediatric hematology-oncology. He worked at the National Cancer Institute as a clinical investigator and then at the Food and Drug Administration (FDA) in the Center for Drug Evaluation and Research and the Center for Biologics Evaluation and Research. He contributed to the development and implementation of the federal pediatric initiatives beginning in 1996, the International Conference for Harmonization E11 Pediatric Guidance and the adaptation of regulations for the protection of children in FDA regulated research. In 2006 he returned to NICHD as Associate Director for Clinical Research and also serves as NIH Co-Coordinator of the Child Health Oversight Committee for the National Center for Research Resources Clinical and Translational Science Awards Consortium. In addition to regulatory, policy and operations activities, Captain Hirschfeld has been active in the development and implementation of data standards for acquisition, transmission and analysis as well as exploring new methods of data analysis. He is the recipient of numerous awards, including twice the Health and Human Services Secretary's Award for Distinguished Service and awards from the Commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration, the director of the National Institutes of Health and the USPHS.

Christopher Eccleston, PhD, is professor of psychology at The University of Bath in the United Kingdom where he directs the Centre for Pain Research. He has a particular interest in evidence based psychology, the development of novel interventions, treatment process and knowledge transfer. He established the adolescent pain rehabilitation programme in Bath, and has consulted internationally on the development of interdisciplinary rehabilitation and in particular on team development and maintenance. He has published extensively, and is also currently the psychology field editor for the journal PAIN, and the coordinating editor of the Pain, Palliative and Supportive Care Cochrane Review Group. Dr. Eccleston also has a keen awareness of challenges in the field of psychology and is interested in working to develop the next generation scientific paediatric psychology. He states, "Psychology is at an interesting crossroads in its development. It is under attack for over-enthusiastic claiming, a perceived reliance on weak methods and a tendency to over-pathologize. But there are opportunities like never before to provide a historically sensitive, theoretically rich turn to evidence, focussing on the normal psychology of everyday experience."

Lori E. Crosby, PsyD, is a professor of clinical pediatrics in the Division of Behavioral Medicine and Clinical Psychology at Cincinnati Children's Hospital Medical Center (CCHMC) and the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. Dr. Crosby is also co-director of INNOVATIONS in community research and program evaluation, director of the Sickle Cell Behavioral Medicine Service and directs a research program in pediatric sickle cell disease (SCD). Dr.

Crosby has emerged as a leader in conducting research to transform the health care system for adolescents and young adults with SCD. In addition to her work with this population, as co-director of training for the CCTST Community Engagement Core, she also works with community members and health advocates to develop partnerships with faculty from the academic health center to translate research into practice. Through her clinical and research work with the SCD population, she has become well-versed in treatment adherence, self-management, recruitment and retention of diverse/vulnerable populations, quality improvement (QI), and qualitative research methods. Currently, Dr. Crosby is the principal investigator on a K07-Award from the National Heart Lung and Blood Institute (NHLBI) focused on developing patient and provider tools to enhance self-management skills and the transition to adult care in pediatric SCD. As part of her K-Award, she has worked with students from the University of Cincinnati College of Design, Architecture, Art and Planning (DAAP) to develop novel patient-oriented clinical support tools. She was also the principal investigator on a CCHMC Place Outcomes Award focused on developing an SCD-specific patient portal, My Chart for SCD. Dr. Crosby also serves as the chair of the Ohio Sickle Cell Statewide Advisory Committee, is co-investigator on a HRSA-funded Newborn Screening Project which participates in the Working to Improve Sickle Cell Healthcare (WISCH) Learning Network, and was a member of the APA Presidential Taskforce on Advancing Practice which developed PracticeOUTCOMES, a database of outcome measures available to all APA practice members.

CONTINUING EDUCATION

Certificates of attendance will be issued for each poster session, symposium, or address marked with a CE on the conference schedule. There are 14 scheduled hours of Introductory to Intermediate level CEs for psychologists offered at SPPAC 2014, with additional CEs available for those who attend the preconference workshops. Learning objectives for select presentations are provided below to aid in attendee planning. The Society of Pediatric Psychology (Division 54 of the American Psychological Association) is approved by the American Psychological Association to sponsor continuing education for psychologists. The Society of Pediatric Psychology maintains responsibility for this program and its contents.

Please remember: In order for SPP to maintain approval to sponsor continuing education, evaluation forms cannot be given out after the start of a session. Participants are responsible for submitting their completed evaluation form immediately at the close of a session. We cannot award partial attendance at a session.

For questions related to continuing education, please speak with Dr. Jennifer Verrill Schurman, SPP Member-at-Large for National Conferences.

To obtain a certificate of attendance for a session, you must:

1. Arrive on time for the start of the session;
2. Obtain an evaluation form from an evaluation monitor;
3. Stay for the duration of the session; and,
4. Complete and turn in the evaluation form immediately at the end of the session.

Please give your completed evaluation form with sign-in sheet to the evaluation monitors at the end of each session. They will issue your documentation of attendance.

Note: The Saturday morning sessions run back-to-back without a break; please only claim credit for those sessions that you attend in their entirety. Evaluation monitors will be on hand at the CE table to accept completed evaluation forms from those individuals who elect to attend only 1 or 2 of these sessions but CE rules regarding arrival and departure times will still be strictly enforced.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

FRIDAY, MARCH 28

KEYNOTE

10:20 - 11:20 am

An Integrated Framework for Linking Exposure and Phenotypic Data in the National Children's Study

Captain Steven Hirschfeld, MD, PhD
1 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

1. Describe a hierarchical structure of data collection and analysis.
2. Integrate environmental context with phenotypic observations in data analysis.
3. Combine individual item responses to construct meaningful meta-level data.

INTERNATIONAL SPEAKER

11:40 am - 12:30 pm

The Trials and Tribulations of Evidence Based Pain Management

Christopher Eccleston, PhD
1 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

1. Describe the strengths of the evidence base for psychological interventions in chronic pain.
2. List at least two weaknesses in the evidence base for psychological interventions in chronic pain.
3. List three innovations that can disrupt and transform psychological treatments for pain.

CONCURRENT SESSIONS

2:00 - 3:50 pm

The Maturation of Pediatric Psychology Training: 2013 SPP Task Force Recommendations and Panel Discussion

Chairs: Tonya Palermo, PhD, & David Janicke, PhD
Panelists: Elizabeth McQuaid, Larry Mullins, Paul Robins, & Yelena Wu
2 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

1. Describe how the Competency Benchmarks Work Group framework was used by the Task Force to identify specific competencies relevant to pediatric psychology training.
2. List at least three of the essential competencies included in the newly developed recommendations for competencies in pediatric psychology.
3. List at least two challenges related to training pediatric psychologists in competency development.
4. List at least two successes related to training pediatric psychologists in competency development.

Readiness for Transition to Adult Medical Care in Adolescents and Young Adults with Chronic Illness: Insight into Evaluation, Predictors, and Lessons Learned

Chair: Maureen Monaghan, PhD
Discussant: Jordan Gilleland, PhD
Speakers: Lisa Schwartz, Wendy Gray, Lindsay Corman, Marissa Hilliard, and Emily Fredericks
2 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

- 1. Describe risks associated with transition from pediatric to adult medical care for adolescents and young adults with chronic illness.
- 2. List at least two barriers to successful transition from pediatric to adult medical care.
- 3. List at least two factors associated with transition readiness in adolescents and young adults.
- 4. Design and validate a measure of transition readiness for a pediatric subspecialty population.
- 5. Describe best practices to support adolescents and young adults during the transition process from pediatric to adult medical care.

Resilience Within Reach: Promoting Positive Adaptation to Pain and Pain-Related Stress in Children and Adolescents

Chair: Laura Simons, PhD
Discussant: Christopher Eccleston, PhD
Speakers: Jill Chorney, Liesbet Goubert, Laura Simons, and Rachael Coakley
2 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

- 1. Describe adaptive parent characteristics associated with a successful perioperative experience for children and adolescents.
- 2. List at least two protective factors in the school setting that reduce school absenteeism for children and adolescents with pain.
- 3. Describe the synergistic impact of parent and child pain acceptance on outcomes in children and adolescents with chronic pain.
- 4. Describe adaptive parenting practices that promote resilience in youth with chronic pain.

SATURDAY, MARCH 29

DIVERSITY SPEAKER

9:40 – 10:30 am

Engaging Diverse Populations in Practice & Research: Strategies & Lessons Learned

Lori Crosby, PsyD
1 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

- 1. List at least two challenges in engaging diverse participants in treatment and research.
- 2. Describe at least one strategy for engaging diverse participants in research.
- 3. Describe at least one strategy for engaging diverse participants in treatment.

SYMPOSIUM

10:30 – 11:20 am

Novel and Noteworthy Research Blitz Talks

Chairs: Lisa Schwartz, PhD, & Emily Fredericks, PhD
Speakers: Kevin Hommel, Kathryn Holman, Brandon Aylward, Meghan McGrady, and Brent Collett
1 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

- 1. Describe the 3 stages of translational research.
- 2. Describe the underlying treatment model guiding manual-based intervention with pediatric feeding issues.
- 3. List at least three elements of the agile development process for mobile health technology.
- 4. Explain how pediatric psychologists can utilize cost-effectiveness analyses to demonstrate their impact on economic outcomes.
- 5. Describe the association between anesthesia exposure and neurocognition in children.

SPP AWARD ADDRESSES

11:30 am – 12:20 pm

Pediatric Psychology Research and Practice: Talks from Select SPP Award Winners

Chair: Tim Wysocki, PhD
Speakers: Tonya Palermo, Amy Lewandowski Holley, and Bryan Carter
1 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

- 1. List three key discoveries in scientific understanding of chronic pain in children and adolescents.
- 2. List at least two professional development strategies for increasing research productivity.
- 3. Describe the relationship between child development and creative innovation in pediatric psychology practice.

Self-Regulation and Chronic Illness Management

Chairs: Cynthia Berg, PhD and Amy Hughes, MS

Speakers: Cynthia Berg, Amy Hughes, Mark Connelly, and Caitlin Murray

2 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

1. Describe the role of self-regulation skills in chronic illness management.
2. Explain how daily diary designs can be used to examine self-regulation in chronic illness management.
3. Apply the central ideas of self-regulation theory across chronic illness conditions.

Primary Care Pediatric Psychology: Integration Within the New Health Care System

Chair: W. Douglas Tynan, PhD

Speakers: Terry Stancin, Paul Robins, Roger Harrison, Kathryn Woods, and Joseph Evans

2 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

1. Explain how mandated care of the Affordable Care Act creates opportunities for psychology practice.
2. List the essential elements for a patient centered medical home.
3. List the three most important professional skills for a pediatric primary care psychologist.
4. Describe at least two adaptations needed to practice in primary care settings compared to mental health settings.

Utilizing Web-Based Programs to Promote Child Health

Chair: Meghan Marsac, PhD

Discussant: Nancy Kassam-Adams, PhD

Speakers: David Schwebel, Meghan Marsac, and Tonya Palermo

2 CE

Based on the content of this talk, participants will be able to:

1. List at least two advantages of remote technologies in delivery of evidence-based interventions to children and families.
2. List at least two challenges in delivering evidence-based interventions to children and families using remote technologies.
3. Describe how web-based programs can be used to promote child health across different stages of intervention (i.e., primary prevention, secondary prevention, treatment).

POSTER SESSION #1^{CE}

Millennium Ballroom (Floor 2)
